Editorial Note

Dear Ansar Brothers,

Assalamo Alekum Warehmatullah!

Alhamdulillah! As we approach the end of the year, we are grateful to have consistently published Nahnu Ansarullah on a monthly basis, following the cherished guidance of our beloved Huzoor Anwar [aa]. May Allah continue to bless our efforts in fulfilling the wishes of our beloved Imam [aa]. Ameen!

We have combined the November and December issues into this special edition to cover large number of activities and reports. It begins with a powerful verse from the Holy Qur'an, urging us to spend in the way of Allah from what He has provided before it is too late. This is followed by a beautiful hadith that reflects the noble character of the Holy Prophet Muhammad [sa], offering an exemplary model for us to emulate in our daily lives.

The issue also features an enlightening section on the writings of Hazrat Promised Messiah[as], focusing on moments when our prayers are accepted by Allah. This serves as a guide to creating the right environment in our supplications.

An important topic—mortgages—is addressed in the next article, taken from Al-Hakam. Here, Syedna Huzoor Anwar[aa] responds to a question from a Lajna member, providing a detailed explanation of this significant subject. Additionally, we explore practical tips for managing auto or home insurance at a lower cost, addressing a challenge many of us face.

The edition also includes the concluding part of a travel blog, compiled by one of our Nasir members during his family's journey across North America. It captures historic and fascinating sites, offering readers an opportunity to learn from these experiences.

Finally, the issue concludes with updates from various departments of Majlis Ansarullah, along with activity reports from Majalis across Canada.

We sincerely request your feedback to help us further improve the content and quality of Nahnu Ansarullah. Jazakamullah!

Wassalam,

Dr. Hameed Mirza

The Holy Qur'an

يٰٓاَيُّهَا الَّذِيْنَ اٰمَنُوْٓا اَنْفِقُوْا مِمَّا رَزَقْنٰكُمْ مِّنْ قَبْلِ اَنْ يَّاْتِيَ يَوْمٌ لَّا بَيْعٌ فِيْهِ وَلَا خُلَّةٌ وَّلَا
شَفَاعَةٌ ؕ وَالْكٰفِرُوْنَ هُمُ الظّٰلِمُوْنَ ﴿2:255﴾

Translation

O ye who believe! spend out of what We have bestowed on you before the day comes wherein there shall be no buying and selling, nor friendship, nor intercession; and it is those who disbelieve that do wrong to themselves.

Short Commentary

Though, as the preceding verses point out, the final victory of the Holy Prophet of Islam was sure, yet the path before Muslims was not strewn with roses. They had to make great sacrifices to reach the goal. It is to this fact that the verse under comment points. It makes reference to financial sacrifices. The words, wherein there shall be no buying and selling, do not mean that there will be no trade and commerce on the Day of Judgement, but that on that great day nobody will be able to buy salvation, which will depend only on one's good works coupled with God's grace. The only buying or selling that will be of avail to men on the Day of Judgement will be that which they shall have made in their present life (9:111).

The words, nor friendship, signify that there will be no occasion for forming new friendships on that day. Those, however, who will have taken God as their friend in their life on this earth will certainly benefit by that friendship. It is to this fact that the Quran refers when it says: Friends on that day shall be foes to one another, except the God-fearing (43:68).

The righteous have God as their friend, and He will continue to be their friend on the Day of Judgement!

Hadith

عَنْ أَبِيْ سَعِيْدٍ الْخُدْرِيّ رَضِىَ اللهُ عَنْهُ أَنَّ رَسُوْلَ اللّٰهِ ﷺ كَانَ يَعْلِفُ الْبَعِيْرَ وَيُقِيْمُ الْبَيْتَ

(مشکوۃ کتاب الفتن باب في اخلاقه - قشیریه ص 75 اسد الغاية جلد اول صفحه 29)

Abu Saeed Khudri, God be pleased with him, narrates:
“The Holy Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, used to feed the camels himself: He would perform household chores: mend shoes, darn clothes, milk goats, and eat in the company of the servant. If a servant became tired while grinding flour, he would help him at this. He would not feel belittled carrying household goods from the market to the house. He would shake hands with the rich and the poor alike. He would always be the first to extend greetings. He would not disdain accepting an invitation not even so small an invitation as to join in eating dates. He would relieve those who toiled. He was mild tempered and kind-hearted. His conduct was excellent, and he was always cheerful. He would smile but would not laugh loudly; he would not frown even when vexed. He was humble, but not lowly; generous, but not extravagant. He was tender hearted and merciful to all Muslims alike. He would never eat his fill to the point where one is likely to start yawning. He would never extend his hand motivated by greed.” (Mishkaat)

So said the Promised Messiah [as]

When the blessings of Allah are near at hand, He provides the pre-requisites for the acceptance of prayer. The heart is stirred, warms up and begins to glow. When, however, the moment is not opportune for the acceptance of prayer, the heart lacks that tranquillity which results in turning towards God. However much one exerts oneself, the heart does not respond by exhibiting willingness. It is so because at times God exerts Hisdecree so that His Will be done, and at other times He concedes to the prayer of His servants. That is why as long as I do not perceive the signs of God's willingness, I do not entertain much hope for the acceptance of prayer. At such times, I submit to the Will of my Lord with greater pleasure than that which I derive from the acceptance of prayer. Indeed, I know that the blessings and fruits of this submission to the Will of God are greater by far.

What is the Islamic ruling on buying a house through a mortgage?

2nd June 2023 (Alhakam)

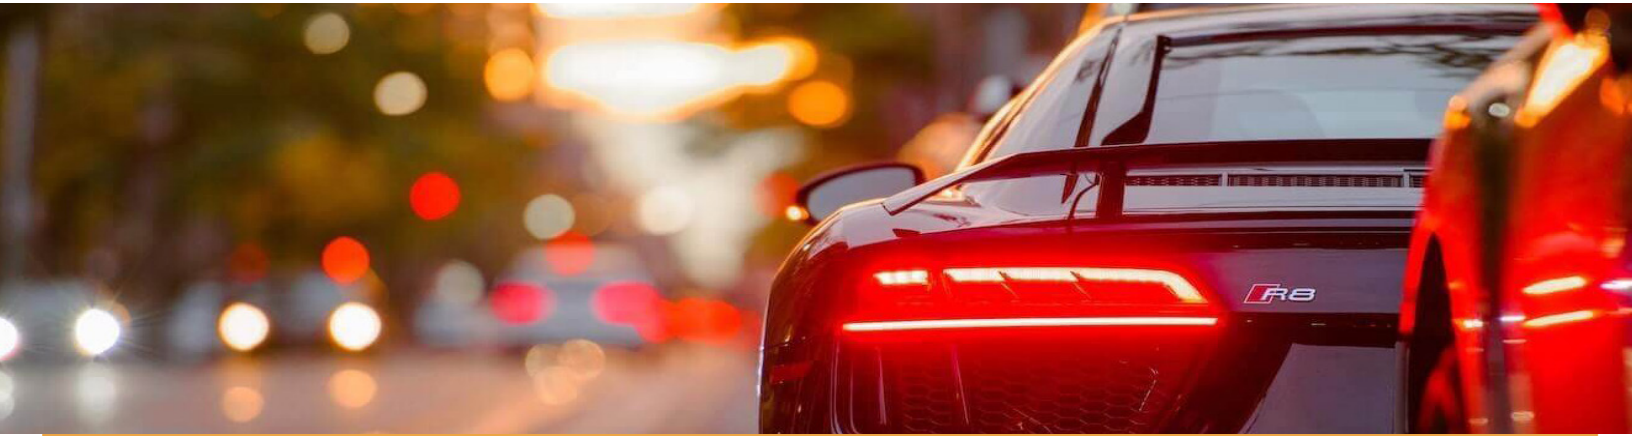
A lady from Germany said to Hazrat Amirul Momineen, Khalifatul Masih Vaa that it is forbidden to give or take interest. She further said that in the Western world, when someone wants to buy a house, they have to pay interest on it. She asked if a Muslim was permitted to buy a home in these countries [on interest]. Huzoor-e-Anwar, in his letter dated 10 May 2022, provided the following answer to this question:

"Houses bought in the Western world through mortgages typically involve a loan acquired from a bank or financial institution. Until the loan is repaid, the property is in fact owned by the bank or financial institution. The bank or financial institution also charges an additional sum on this loan, which they attribute to the devaluation of money.

"Since not everyone in these countries can easily afford to buy a house for their residence, they are left with two options. They either have to live in a rented house their entire lives, in which case the lifelong paid rent provides them with no benefit other than residing in the house because, despite paying a substantial amount in rent, the house never becomes their property. Alternatively, they are forced by circumstances to utilise the facility of a mortgage to buy a house for their residence. The mortgage repayments they have to make are almost the same as the rent they would be paying. However, the advantage of a mortgage is that after repaying the instalments, the house becomes their property.

"Therefore, buying a house through a mortgage is a matter of necessity and compulsion [iztirar], from which one may only benefit to the extent of buying a house for personal residence. However, using this method of a mortgage to continuously buy properties for business purposes is by no means correct, and the Jamaat does not encourage this at all; rather, it prohibits it."

How can you reduce auto insurance premiums in Canada?

Nisar Shams (Melville)


Reducing auto insurance premiums in Canada can be achieved through a variety of strategies. Here are some of the most effective ways:

1. Increase Your Deductible

Opting for a higher deductible (the amount you pay out-of-pocket in the event of a claim) can lower your premiums. However, be sure you can afford the deductible if you need to make a claim.

2. Bundle Insurance Policies

Many insurance companies offer discounts if you bundle multiple types of insurance policies together, such as auto and home insurance.

3. Maintain a Clean Driving Record

Safe driving without accidents, traffic violations, or claims will make you eligible for lower premiums. Some insurers even offer discounts for drivers with several years of accident-free driving.

4. Use Telematics or Usage-Based Insurance (UBI)

Some insurers offer discounts if you install a telematics device or use an app that monitors your driving habits. Safer driving can lead to lower premiums through this program.

5. Take Advantage of Discounts

Ask your insurer about available discounts. Common discounts include:

- Good driver discounts for maintaining a clean driving record.
- Multi-vehicle discounts if you insure more than one vehicle.
- Loyalty discounts for staying with the same insurer.
- Low-mileage discounts for drivers who don’t drive often.
- Student discounts for young drivers maintaining good grades.

6. Review Your Coverage

Adjust your coverage levels based on your needs. For example:

- If you drive an older car, you may consider reducing or dropping optional coverages like collision or comprehensive insurance.

◐ Evaluate if you need coverage extras like rental car insurance, roadside assistance, etc.

7. Choose a Vehicle with Lower Insurance Rates

Insurance premiums vary based on the type, make, and model of the vehicle. opt for vehicles that are less expensive to insure, which are typically safer, cheaper to repair, and less likely to be stolen.

8. Shop Around for Quotes

Compare quotes from different insurance providers, as rates can vary significantly. Online comparison tools can help you find competitive rates.

9. Install Anti-Theft Devices

Installing anti-theft devices such as alarms, tracking systems, or immobilizers can reduce the risk of theft and lower your premiums.

10. Maintain a Good Credit Score:

In provinces where it's allowed, insurers may consider your credit score when determining premiums. A higher credit score can lead to lower insurance rates.

11. Drop Optional Coverage on Older Vehicles

If your car is older and not worth much, you may consider dropping collision and comprehensive coverage to save money.

12. Pay Annually Instead of Monthly

Many insurers offer discounts if you pay your premiums annually instead of monthly, as it reduces their administrative costs.

13. Enroll in Driver Education Programs

Some insurers offer discounts to drivers who complete recognized defensive driving courses, especially for young or inexperienced drivers.

Each province in Canada may have different rules and insurance systems, so it's a good idea to check with local providers and regulators for more specific ways to reduce your premiums. The author works as New Business Development Agent with Allstate Insurance Company Canada.

3.2 National Majlis Amila Ansarullah and Regional Nazimeen Ala Mulaqat with Huzoor Anwar [aa] – Report by Al-Hakam

On Sunday, 19 May 2024, members of the National Majlis Amila Ansarullah and Regional Nazimeen Ala Canada had the privilege of an in-person mulaqat with Hazrat Amirul Momineen, Khalifatul Masih V (May Allah be his Helper!), at Islamabad, UK.

Upon arrival, Huzoor[aa] conveyed salaam to everyone. A moment of silent prayer, led by Huzoor[aa], marked the beginning of the mulaqat, after which introductions were made.

Huzoor[aa] inquired from Qa'id Umumi about the number of Majalis and their monthly reports. Qai'd Umumi responded that there were 116 majalis, out of which 99% submitted their reports. He reported that the total tajnid is 6721.

Speaking with Naib Qa'id Tarbiyat, Huzoor [aa] asked what plans were made to ensure proper tarbiyat. The Naib Qa'id reported that since the last mulaqat with Huzoor [aa], they had been focusing on continuous reminders, with a particular emphasis on salat. He also reported that house visits were included in the plan at the beginning of the year, and they were able to meet with 3,846 Ansar to foster a personal relationship with them. Huzoor (aa) added, "Did you not also instruct them to foster a personal relationship with God?"

Huzoor[aa] further added, "If the tarbiyat of the Ansar is done properly, then the tarbiyat of future generations will follow naturally."

The conversation then shifted to financial matters, with Huzoor[aa] asking Qa'id Maal about the budgeting aspects. Huzoor Anwar [aa] said "If the Tarbiyat Department put in as much effort as the Maal Department does in collecting chanda, remaining problems could be solved automatically."

Huzoor[aa] added that they are consistent in collecting chanda and emphasised that they should also be consistent in encouraging people to "offer salat, read the Holy Quran, Hadith, and the books of the Promised Messiah [as]."

Huzoor[aa] then enquired from Qa'id Talim which book was assigned for Ansar to read who reported that the books prescribed for this year were "Our Teaching" and "Barahin-e-Ahmadiyya Part V". He asked Huzoor (aa) how they could encourage Ansar to read more of the books of the Promised Messiah (as).

Huzoor[aa] replied that if someone is unable to read a full book from cover to cover, they can read Essence of Islam if they understand

English. For those who do not read English, Huzoor[aa] suggested "Hazrat Mirza Ghulam Ahmad Qadiani[as] : Apni Tehreeron Ki Roo Say", which is organised by topic. "From this, they can attain a wide range of knowledge," he said.

Huzoor [aa] also alluded to Malfuzat and added that they should read "Chashma-e-Ma'rifat", mentioning that much can be learned from it and that many contemporary issues are addressed there. Huzoor[aa] emphasised that if both the Tarbiyat and Talim departments became active, then the rest would follow suit.

As a word of advice, Huzoor[aa] said, "Remain steadfast in speaking the truth, focus on your prayers, read and ponder over the Holy Quran, and study and try to understand the books of the Promised Messiah[as]. If one is unable to read a book from cover to cover, one can read passages collated under various topics in book form. Stay committed to the truth, serve humanity, pay attention to tarbiyat within your home, and set a good example. By doing so, you will create a better environment. These are the 4-5 points you should all be acting upon."

Speaking with Qa'id Sehat-e-Jismani, Huzoor[aa] said that the Ansar should not only participate in sports events but also foster an attachment with the Jama'at. The age of a nasir, Huzoor [aa] added, is such that one is more conscious of the hereafter. Then, in conversation with the Naib Sadr of Saf Dom, Huzoor [aa] enquired about the number of Ansar they had in Saf Dom. Huzoor[aa] was informed that there were 3400 Ansar, some of whom owned bicycles and organised cycling events.

When asked about tajnid and noting that some people list their work or business address instead of their home address, it was further explained that this causes confusion and makes it difficult to keep in contact with them. Huzoor [aa] clarified that a person's home should be considered their tajnid, regardless of where they work. Wherever one resides, their tajnid should be reported as that location.

Qa'id Isaar mentioned that this year, their focus has been on maintaining contact with as many Ansar as possible and fostering a stronger bond. He also noted that they received positive feedback.

Huzoor[aa] advised encouraging people to give to charity, as there are many in great need. He alluded to various charities, both local and international. Huzoor[aa] specifically mentioned Palestinians, saying that support should be extended to them as well. He added that the age of a Nasir is such that after this is only the Hereafter.

Speaking with the Tabligh Department, Huzoor [aa] asked about the target set for the year. He was informed that the target was 100 bai'ats, and that they had achieved 32 so far. They also reported that they were conducting one-on-one Tabligh sessions, among other initiatives.

In a conversation with the Qa'id Tabligh, Huzoor[aa] also highlighted the importance of direct engagement with the wider public over merely interacting with political figures. He expressed concern that some may think they have achieved significant success by associating with politicians and gaining media coverage through such engagements. However, Huzoor [aa] stressed that the real achievement is not the public acknowledgement or appearances of ministers and politicians at events. Instead, he emphasised that the focus should be on the training and spiritual development of the Jama'at members. He advised that gatherings and events should not be mere platforms for showcasing political connections but opportunities for enhancing the Jama'at members' understanding and practice of Islamic teachings.

In his response about obligatory contributions (chandas), Huzoor[aa] provided clarity, stating that while contributions such as Chanda Aam, Chanda Wasiyyat, and Chanda Jalsa Salana are mandatory, the contributions determined by auxiliary organisations like Majlis Ansarullah also carry substantial importance. These contributions, referred to as “tanzimi chandajaat”, are established by representatives elected to the Majlis-e-Shura. These representatives commit on behalf of their organisations to uphold these financial responsibilities. As a result, members of these auxiliary organisations are equally obligated to fulfil their commitments concerning these contributions.

Regarding the world’s condition, an amila member told Huzoor[aa] that they often pray for the world’s situation and pray that a war does not break out. He asked if the prevalence of ultimate peace was conditional upon a war breaking out.

Huzoor[aa] answered that there was no such condition. “However, if the circumstances persist, remember that the Promised Messiah [as] has written that destruction will afflict the world. If people do not change their condition, then destiny is such that it can be altered through our prayers.” Huzoor[aa] added that, looking at the history of the world and its people, it is difficult to anticipate a change in their condition. This is why either destruction occurs, or war breaks out, after which people return to Allah. “This is why,” Huzoor[aa] said, “I emphasise, first introduce the Jama’at and inform the world – we should warn the world that such destruction can afflict the world. Thus, one should return to God, and this is the way to be safeguarded.” Huzoor [aa] added that even if they do not return, at least they will eventually realise, after such a catastrophe, that there were certain people who called them towards the truth. Therefore, Huzoor[aa] said that God is also capable of creating the means to prevent destruction from afflicting the world, and without it, conditions can improve.

The mulaqat culminated in a memorable moment for the attendees as they had the honour of taking a photograph with Huzoor [aa], marking a successful conclusion to the gathering.

During this visit to UK, the amila members also attended tarbiyyati sessions and sittings with Respected Abdul Majid Tahir sahib, Additional Wakil Tabshir, respected Maulana Ataul Mujeed Rashid sahib, Imam Baitul Fazl London and Sadr Majlis Ansarullah UK. Message of Hazrat Khalifatul Masih V (May Allah be his Helper) at the Occasion of Ijtima Majlis Ansarullah Canada 2024

Respected Sadr Sahib, Majlis Anşărullah Canada

السلام علیکم و رحمة اللہ و برکاتہ

You requested a message for Majlis Anşărullah Canada's Annual National Ijtima'. On this occasion, I would like to draw the attention of all Ansar towards some important responsibilities. Allah the Almighty has bestowed upon us the blessing of Ahmadiyyat. This is a tremendous favour from Him, for which we must express our deepest gratitude. As members of Majlis Anşārullāh, your responsibilities are very important.

You are those pillars of the Jama'at, upon whom the responsibility of nurturing the future generations is vested. Allah the Exalted says that He created the Jinn and mankind solely for His worship. Therefore, you should always prioritize this command and strive to elevate the standards of your worship. The Promised Messiah (on whom be peace) has said that a true prayer is one that is offered with passion and pain. Cultivate this spirit in your prayers so that they may be accepted.

The second critical responsibility is the moral training of your children. In this era, where disbelief and atheism are rampant, it is your responsibility to keep your progeny firmly connected to their faith. Teach them the true religion and exemplify high moral standards. As guardians of your households, you are accountable for the religious and moral training of your children. Therefore, it is your duty to instill in them the practice of regular prayers, recitation of the Holy Qur'an, and participation in Jama'at activities.

The Promised Messiah (on whom be peace) has said that the purpose of this Jama'at is to re-establish true knowledge and piety. To achieve this, cultivate pure transformations within yourselves and disseminate the beautiful teachings of Islam in your surroundings. Anşărullah also holds the responsibility of propagating Islam. Foster within yourselves a zeal for preaching and a concern for upholding the Supreme Words of Allah.

These responsibilities are demanding and require persistent effort, diligence, and supplication. However, if you steadfastly persevere, Allah will undoubtedly assist you. Therefore, depart from this Ijtima' with a renewed commitment to fulfilling your responsibilities and consider it your foremost duty to strive in the path of Allah. May Allah the Exalted elevate your academic, religious, and spiritual standards! May Allah bless your Ijtima' and make it successful in every aspect! Ameen!

Extend my loving Salam to all participants of the Ijtima'.

Wassalam!

Khaksar Mirza Masroor Ahmad,

Khalifatul-Masih V

Ansar Raise over $120,000 for Water Wells in 2024

Mercy for Humanity – Water for Life Projects

With the guidance of beloved Huzur[aa], Majlis Ansarullah Canada under the Mercy for Humanity initiative is working on various humanitarian projects, including Water Wells - providing clean drinking water to the neediest villages. Ansar from coast to coast answered the call of beloved Huzur[aa] and donated generously towards water wells projects, which will be installed on the guidance of Hazrat Khalifatul Masih[aa].

"Huzoor[aa] then encouraged them to initiate a humanitarian project in Africa. Huzoor[aa] said that Ansarullah should establish a hospital or undertake a significant project in Africa. He cited the example of Majlis Ansarullah in the UK, which has established an eye institute in Burkina Faso. Huzoor[aa] emphasized that Ansarullah Canada should also engage in such endeavors."

Virtual Meeting with National `Amila – June 4, 2023 From Al-Hakam

Access to clean drinking water is a major global issue, with millions of people around the world still lacking reliable access to safe and clean water. Here are some key statistics that highlight the severity of the water crisis:

Global Water Crisis Statistics:

1. 2.2 Billion People Lack Access to Safe Drinking Water: According to the World Health Organization (WHO) and UNICEF, over 2.2 billion people worldwide still lack access to safely managed drinking water services.

2. Waterborne Diseases: Contaminated water is a leading cause of diseases. Around 485,000 deaths annually are caused by diarrhea alone, a preventable disease often associated with poor water quality and lack of sanitation.

3. Sub-Saharan Africa: Approximately 40% of the population in sub-Saharan Africa lacks access to clean drinking water, making it one of the most affected regions in the world.

4. Rural Areas: In rural areas, the situation is even more dire, with nearly 80% of the population in some developing countries relying on untreated water sources like rivers, lakes, and ponds.

5. Impact on Children: Waterborne diseases disproportionately affect children. 1 in 5 child deaths worldwide is due to diarrheal diseases, often caused by drinking contaminated water.

6. Water Shortages in Urban Areas: Even in cities, 2 billion people live in areas where water resources are under stress, facing challenges such as aging infrastructure, droughts, and pollution.

7. Access to Sanitation: Globally, around 4.2 billion people do not have access to safely managed sanitation services, which is closely linked to water contamination and poor hygiene practices.

8. Water Scarcity: Around 1.9 billion people live in areas where water is physically scarce. In many places, water scarcity is compounded by climate change, droughts, and overuse of water resources.

Water for Life Projects by Majlis Ansarullah Canada:

Supporting these projects are critical in addressing this global crisis. By funding and building water wells, they help to reduce the burden on communities, improve health outcomes, and boost local economies by ensuring that people have access to clean and safe drinking water.

Mercy for Humanity – Belize Water for Life Project

Belize, with its natural beauty and cultural diversity, faces a significant challenge in accessing clean drinking water, especially in rural areas, due to contamination and inadequate infrastructure. To address this, the Ahmadiyya Muslim Jama'at Belize launched the "Water for Life" initiative at the Baitun Nur Mosque in Belize City. By the Grace of Allah and with guidance of Huzur(aa) Majlis Ansarullah Canada stepped forward and had the blessings of sponsoring this project with an initial donation of $15,000, supplemented by $7,500 for additional needs.

The Water Purification Plant, operational since July 2023, produces 95 gallons of clean water daily, with a capacity of 400 gallons per day (equivalent to 80 five-gallon bottles). This results in an annual output of 146,000 gallons, benefiting over 70,000 people each year.

The plant charges a nominal fee of $3.00 per 5-gallon bottle, ensuring operational costs are met while remaining affordable for the local population.

This project has also stimulated the local economy by creating employment opportunities and fostering self-sufficiency. The success of this initiative provides a sustainable solution to water scarcity in Belize City, with the potential for expansion to further benefit underserved communities.

May Allah bless this project and its long-term impact on the local community. Ameen!

4 Million Flyer Distribution Campaign

Following guidance from Huzoor Anwar [aa]

Majlis Ansarullah was tasked with reaching out to 10 percent of the Canadian population. To fulfill this directive, the National Tabligh department initiated a campaign to distribute flyers across Canada. By the grace of Allah Almighty, Ansar members enthusiastically participated in the campaign, demonstrating a strong commitment. Nevertheless, there is still significant room for improvement.

Progress Overview:

◐ By May 2024, a total of 25,000 flyers had been distributed.

◐ Since then, the distribution has consistently exceeded 25,000 flyers per month and continues to improve. However, as winter approaches, the distribution rate has naturally begun to decline, which is to be expected.

Efforts to Enhance the Campaign:

◐ To further promote the 4 million flyer campaign, the national team began visiting regions and meeting with Muntazmeen to motivate and reinforce the importance of weekly flyer distribution activities.

◐ Weekly meetings with regional teams were also conducted in October to sustain and boost distribution efforts.

Outcome: Overall, the campaign has shown positive results and continued growth. The following graphs illustrate the improvements made so far.
